Dear Parishioners,

On this Thirteenth Sunday in Ordinary Time, the Gospel lesson concludes Jesus' great "missionary discourse" in which he instructs his twelve disciples on the cost and the reward of discipleship. The first half of these sayings of Jesus details the behavior expected of the disciples, and the second half speaks of the behavior expected of others toward the disciples.

"Whoever loves father or mother more than me is not worthy of me...." These words may sound a bit extreme, since family comes first for most of us. What Jesus means is that all loyalties must give place to loyalty to God. The wants of any person or any group of people (e.g., a family) cannot be met by trampling on or denying the rights and needs of others. If members of one's family act unjustly, one must, in conscience, separate oneself from them. In other words, one cannot condone immoral practices even by members of one's family. Jesus clearly is not attacking family life. He is giving a warning to his disciples of the conflicts and misunderstandings they will experience.

"Whoever gives only a cup of cold water to one of these little ones...." Hospitality means acknowledging the presence of God in others and serving Him in them, especially those in whom we least expect to find Him. We, as individuals and as a community, are to look for opportunities to be hospitable, and, of course, there are plenty of ways of offering hospitality. Maybe hospitality is offered through a kind word to a stranger or even a smile. A kind smile or a "hello" (even from behind a mask) to someone waiting with us in a grocery line may be the only kindness that person encounters all day.

We become more fully alive as Christians through the generous giving of ourselves.

Peace and joy,
Fr. Steve
