GRACE AND PEACE TO YOU, MY BROTHERS AND SISTERS,

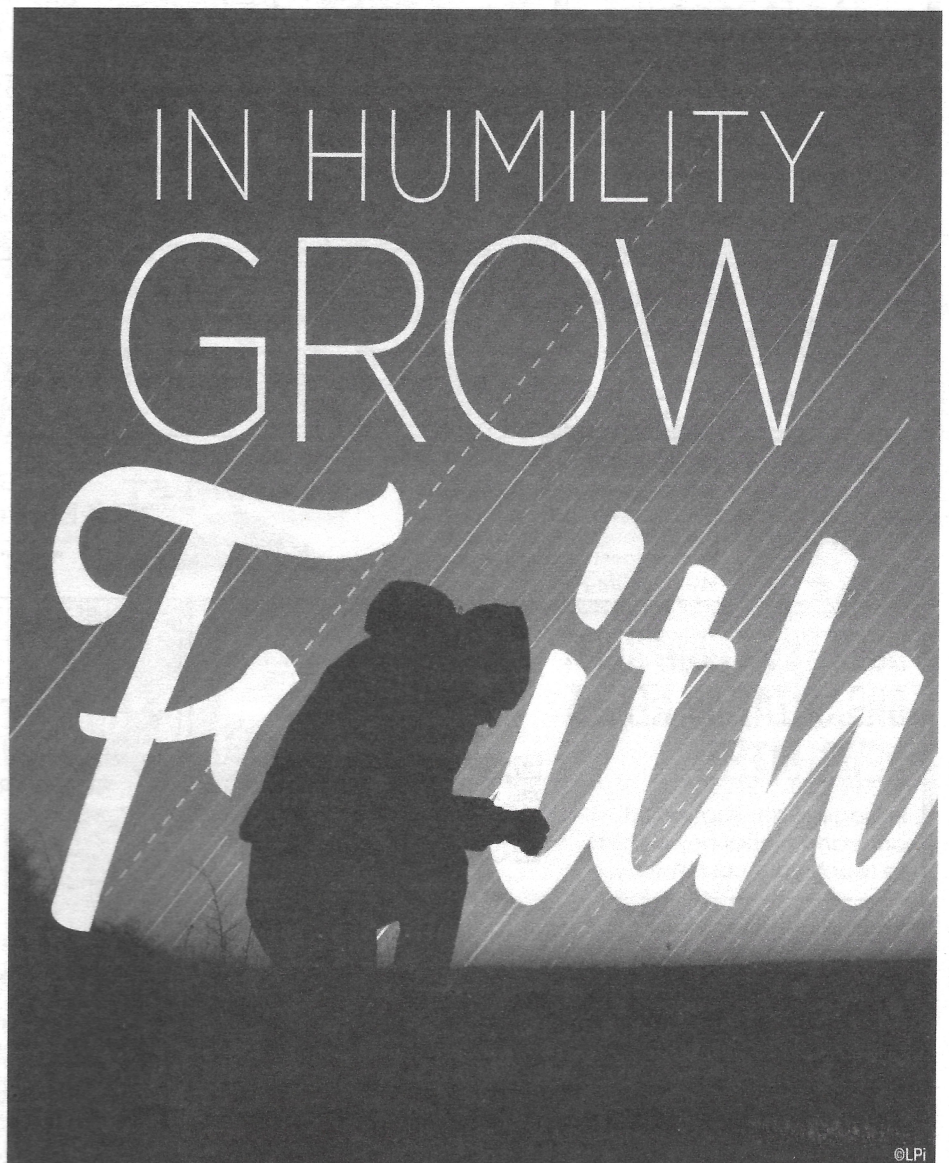

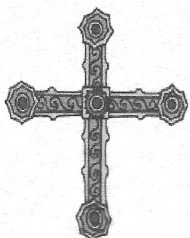

We continue with the theme of prayer and God's love for the defenseless and those who need protection from the powerful. The first reading reminds us that the prayer of the lowly pierces the clouds until it reaches God. What a beautiful image. When we turn to God because we know we cannot do it on our own, this prayer becomes sublime. This week, take some time to think about the areas of your life where you feel powerless and lowly. If you are like me, on our journey of faith, there are areas of our lives that need special help from God. Others come more easily and are doable, while many remain challenging. I invite you to bring those areas of your life to God this week in prayer.

Last weekend, in my homily, I invited you to become a vessel of God's grace to transform the world into a more just place around you. The invitation was to collaborate with God's grace to make his Kingdom of Justice a reality in our lives and society. This week, the invitation is to turn inward and see if we can allow the grace of God to cleanse us. The Gospel seems to challenge us to approach God with humility and simplicity to receive God's grace. Our spiritual journey is always back to God. We go to God with our hearts and minds open to receive his love. We do not need to compare ourselves to others. Our journey is unique and personal. The Lord walks with each one of us uniquely. This week, I invite you to dig deeper into our souls and see the journey we are on. And what are the dark spots on our souls? And how are we allowing God's mercy and compassion to wipe those away?

In the Gospel, Jesus contrasts the prayer of the Pharisee with the prayer of the tax collector. Both go to the temple and understand that prayer is an essential part of their lives. Now, the way they go about it differs. The tax collector, knowing his sinfulness and guilt, comes to God to surrender his life and ask for Grace and Mercy. The Pharisee comes approaching God with his list of achievements. We clearly see in this example that one comes to God feeling powerless, while the other feels strong and in control of his life. What would be your approach to prayer this week?

Blessings,

Fr. Juan M. Camacho

The Pharisee took such pride in his good deeds that he forgot to ask God for forgiveness; the tax collector acknowledged his many sins, and went home justified. Remember that we are saved not by our own merit, but by the mercy of God.

Devotions, Explained!

Often one of the first prayers taught to children, the Guardian Angel Prayer consists of two rhyming couplets invoking the protection of one's guardian angel. Its exact authorship is unknown, but it originated in the medieval period.

accompany us at every moment
— You who greet us with mercy anew every morning, and grace in abundance each night.
Amen.
